

philippine studies

Ateneo de Manila University • Loyola Heights, Quezon City • 1108 Philippines

Contributors

Contributors to Volume 52 Number 1: 2004

Philippine Studies vol. 52, no.1 (2004): 144–145

Copyright © Ateneo de Manila University

Philippine Studies is published by the Ateneo de Manila University. Contents may not be copied or sent via email or other means to multiple sites and posted to a listserv without the copyright holder's written permission. Users may download and print articles for individual, noncommercial use only. However, unless prior permission has been obtained, you may not download an entire issue of a journal, or download multiple copies of articles.

Please contact the publisher for any further use of this work at philstudies@admu.edu.ph.

<http://www.philippinestudies.net>
Fri June 30 13:30:20 2008

Contributors

TESS DEL ROSARIO is currently a visiting professor at the Asian Institute of Technology, PO Box 4, Khlong Luang, Pathumthani 12120, Thailand. She holds a Ph.D. in Sociology from Boston College and two Master's degrees, one in Social Anthropology and another in Public Administration, from Harvard University. Her current research is on "reexamined masculinities" among Filipino migrants in Thailand.

CHARLES J-H MACDONALD is an anthropologist, and holds the position of Senior Fellow (Directeur de Recherche) at the National Center for Scientific Research (CNRS), Université de Provence, 3 Place Victor Hugo, 13003 Marseilles, France. He was the founder and director of the Institute for Research for Southeast Asia (IRSEA), and the Institute of Asia-Pacific Studies in Marseilles (MAP). He has undertaken ethnographic investigations in southern Palawan and south central Vietnam. His current interests include the anthropology of suicide, naming systems, and christianization.

RAUL PERTIERRA is presently based in the Department of Sociology and Anthropology, Ateneo de Manila University, Loyola Heights, Quezon City, Philippines. He also teaches at the Asian Center, University of the Philippines. He was formerly connected with the University of New South Wales in Sydney, Australia. His latest research interests are in science and technology and their consequences for Philippine society and culture. His recent publications include the work of culture (2002); TXT-ing Selves: Cellphones and Philippine Modernity (2002); and Science, Technology, and Everyday Culture in the Philippines (2003).

E. SAN JUAN JR. was recently Fulbright professor of American Studies at the Katholieke Universiteit Leuven in Belgium and fellow of the Center for the Humanities, Wesleyan University. He was guest lecturer at the Academia Sinica in Taiwan in June 2004 and keynote speaker at the 2004 Quadrennial International Conference on Comparative Literature in Taipei, Taiwan. His recent works are Racism and Cultural Studies (Duke University Press), Working Through The Contradictions (Bucknell University Press), Himagsik (De La Salle University Press), and Timik sa Kaluluwa at Iba Pang Akda (Anvil). He may be reached at 117 Davis Road, Storrs, CT 06268, USA.

BENJAMIN T. TOLOSA JR. is associate professor in and chair of the Department of Political Science, Ateneo de Manila University, Loyola Heights, Quezon City, Philippines. He also teaches in the Department of Economics and the Development Studies Program. He obtained his Ph.D. in Political Science from the University of Minnesota as a Fulbright-MacArthur scholar. His academic interests are in the fields of international and comparative political economy, politics of development, economic sociology, and critical international relations theory.