

Contributors

PATRIA G. ARAÑAS is Assistant to the President of the Ateneo de Manila University. She received her M.A. in Reading Education from De La Salle University. FRANCIS X. CLARK, S.J., who is finance officer and librarian of the East Asian Pastoral Institute, earned his S.T.D. at Woodstock and Gregorian Universities. He first came to the Philippines as a Jesuit scholastic in 1934. MANUEL DY, PH. D, is an associate professor at the Department of Philosophy, teaching ethics and Chinese philosophy. NENITA O. ESCASA has translated works in Southeast Asian literature and is an associate professor in the Department of Pilipino, Ateneo de Manila University. DOREEN G. FERNANDEZ, chairman of the Department of English, Ateneo de Manila, and a member of the Philippine Studies editorial advisory board, is no stranger to our readers. She is an authority on Philippine theater. JOSEPH GALDON, S.J., a regular contributor, is chairman of the Ateneo University's Department of Interdisciplinary Studies and an associate editor of this quarterly. CHARLES L. HIGGINS is a professor of sociology and the Assistant to the President of the Nazareth College of Rochester. He is also Director Emeritus of that college's library. ANTONIO LEDESMA, S.J., holds an M.A. in Political Science and a Ph. D. in Development Studies. He is currently a consultant at the Institute of Philippine Culture. The second half of his article on land reform is published in this issue. SR. EVANGELISTA NITE, S. SP. S., is currently working for her doctoral degree at the Ateneo de Manila University and is teaching at the College of the Holy Spirit in Tarlac. JOHN N. SCHUMACHER, S.J., is professor of church history at the Loyola School of Theology and former editor of this journal. His latest book is Readings in Philippine Church History.