

philippine studies

Ateneo de Manila University • Loyola Heights, Quezon City • 1108 Philippines

Contributors

Contributors to Volume 46 Number 3 1998

Philippine Studies vol. 46, no. 3 (1998): 403

Copyright © Ateneo de Manila University

Philippine Studies is published by the Ateneo de Manila University. Contents may not be copied or sent via email or other means to multiple sites and posted to a listserv without the copyright holder's written permission. Users may download and print articles for individual, noncommercial use only. However, unless prior permission has been obtained, you may not download an entire issue of a journal, or download multiple copies of articles.

Please contact the publisher for any further use of this work at philstudies@admu.edu.ph.

<http://www.philippinestudies.net>
Fri June 27 13:30:20 2008

Contributors

CHRISTINE DORAN is senior lecturer in History at Northern Territory University, Australia. She is currently researching aspects of the social history of the Philippines and Malaysia during the colonial period, in particular the interrelations between women, imperialism and nationalism.

JOSEPH A. GALDON, S.J., editor of this review, is professor emeritus of Ateneo de Manila University. He obtained his Ph.D. in English and Comparative Literature from Columbia University.

FRANCISCO MALLARI, S.J. is professor in the Department of History and Political Science, Xavier University. He authored the book Ibalon Under Storm and Siege: Essays in Bicol History, 1565-1860.

YOSHIKO NAGANO is a Japanese scholar conducting research on Philippine economic history. She is professor of International Relations from Kanagawa University and earned her Ph.D. in economic history from Hitotsubashi University, Tokyo.

LUCIANO P. R. SANTIAGO is a psychiatrist in private practice at the Medical City Hospital. In his free time, he researches and writes on Philippine history, art, culture and psychology for which he has received several awards.

DONOVAN STOREY obtained the Ph.D. from the Institute of Development Studies at Massey University, New Zealand. Donovan is now lecturer in Development Studies in the School of Social and Economic Development, University of the South Pacific.