

Contributors

DOREEN G. FERNANDEZ is professor at the Ateneo de Manila University where she is also chairperson of the Department of Communication. She has written scholarly and popular works on Philippine culture, especially in literary, culinary and theater history.

JOSEPH A. GALDON, S.J., editor-in-chief of this review, is professor in the Department of English, Ateneo de Manila University. He obtained his Ph.D. in English and Comparative Literature from Columbia University.

FLORENTINO H. HORNEDO is associate editor of this review and professor in the Department of Filipino, Ateneo de Manila University. He obtained his Ph.D. in Literature and pursued doctoral studies in history at the University of Santo Tomas.

RAINIER R.A. IBANA is assistant professor in the Department of Philosophy, Ateneo de Manila University. He obtained his doctoral degree from Fordham University in New York City.

LUIS Q. LACAR, formerly from Silliman, is now director of the Coordination Center for Research and Development of the Mindanao State University, Iligan Institute of Technology.

JAIME AN LIM holds his Ph.D. in Comparative Literature from Indiana University. He is currently professor of English at Mindanao State University-IIT in Iligan City.

PATRICK RIORDAN, S.J., is an Irish Jesuit who taught at the Philosophy Department of Ateneo de Manila University as a visiting professor in 1989. He is currently working at Milltown Institute in Dublin, Ireland. He obtained his doctoral degree from Innsbruck University in Austria.

VOLKER SCHULT obtained his Ph.D. in Southeast Asia Studies at the University of Passau, West Germany. He has written extensively on Mindoro, and his dissertation, written in German, was on the social history of Mindoro in the twentieth century.